

The Wheel Of Time

Through times we grow, also the times we know.
For how life see the opportunities,
Comes at every number that we see communities.
Also the time we'd stop, is the path we go.

Years of challenges come and came,
Yet all of these come but not so done,
For here I stand not to be gone,
But here I am to know what's the game.

For who am I not to stand down,
Upon the foe ground,
For here I was called to renown,
But come at last, that I wont be drowned.

For here my story will never end,
Nor was my legacy cease to rend.
The challenges ahead are still happening,
By purpose, I must follow even from struggling.
